DRY CHICAGO?

WINDY CITY MAY VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION

May Result in Legalizing Sunday Saloons or Make Town Dry as a Desert.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 15.—Voters of Chicago may be given opportunity not only to decide the question of Sunday saloons, but to make the entire city a prohibition territory at the election of April 7.

Almost 50,000 signatures of voters willing to make the test, it is said, are appended to petitions circulated since Jan. 1 by the "Chicago No-Licenses Committee." But 85,000 are necessary to place the question on the ballot under the local option law.

Attorney John H. Hill, vice president of the Young People's Christian Temperance Union, is at the head of the movement, which was launched in a conference of a dozen societies four weeks ago.

Petitions in conformity with the requirements of the local option law were printed and distributed to 800 volunteer workers of the association. Emphasis was placed on the fact that saloon advocates be asked to sign the petitions to procure a fair test of public sentiment on prohibition at a general election.

Yesterday the officials of the committee made their first announcement of the result of the twelve days work. They declared that 50,000 names had been signed and that the necessary 85,000 or 25 per cent of the registered vote, will be procured before next Monday.

"We have gone on without any blare of trumpets and have been desirous of making no public statement until after the first meeting of the workers, which will be held in Willard Hall on next Monday evening. Then we hope to say that our lists are completed."

"The expressions of opinion gathered by the workers indicate the sentiment of voters. Men who have had little interest in the saloon problem have been aroused by the defiance of the law expressed by the liquor men. The resentment of the average citizen has been stirred by their dictatorial and illegal methods. The reply will be recorded at the first election."

A part of the letter of instruction given to the collectors of signatures reads:

"The purpose of this canvass is to secure signatures to the petition for an election, and not to make converts to our cause. Do not argue the saloon question with the prospective signers. Even if they are saloon sympathizers, urge them to sign on the ground that they ought to be fair enough to help give the people a chance to express themselves on this important proposition."

On the sentiments expressed by the signers Mr. Hill bases his belief that the saloons will be voted out of existence in Chicago next April.

AT CITY HALL

At the meeting of the board of public service yesterday, Street Superintendent Pearson was authorized to buy a horse, the cost not to exceed $250, for use in his department.

The bond of S. A. Haskell for the construction of storm water sewers on Shorb and Fulton streets was accepted and the contract signed.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and give an estimate of the cost for a sewer on the west side of the square, near where the street cars stop, to carry away the water that accumulates there during rain storms. The matter will be taken up with the street railway company and the county commissioners in the near future.

It was decided by the board that all places where moving picture shows are given will have to be immediately equipped with steel fire proof booths in which to place the picture machine. The board has entered into a contract with the Berger Manufacturing company for the construction of such a cage for use at the Auditorium. Chief Menner stated yesterday that the law would be rigidly enforced in Canton. Some of the picture show places in this city have already complied with the requirements of the law and all are well protected in case of an accident happening to the machines.
